

17 – 19 May
Roths Halls
Glenrothes

A special book festival for Fife's New Town in its 70th anniversary year.

#ReimagiNation
booked.edbookfest.co.uk
onfife.com

Kids' Events on Centre Pages!

RE IMAGI NATION

What would I change about Glenrothes? Its image as a place with 'nothing to do'. If you look there is plenty life in the area.

ReimagiNation survey respondent

ReimagiNation: Glenrothes is a three-day festival bringing stories into Fife's New Town and celebrating those of the area on its 70th anniversary.

Produced by the Edinburgh International Book Festival — the world's biggest festival of its kind — in collaboration with Fife Cultural Trust, this is the fourth stop in a tour of Scotland's five New Towns, arriving in Glenrothes to help explore what seven decades of life have been like in the town.

Brilliant authors and speakers come to the town from across the UK, including Fife's own crime-writing queen Val McDermid as well as a clutch of the country's top thriller writers, broadcasters Sally Magnusson and Archie Macpherson, and plenty of entertainment for kids too — meaning ReimagiNation is perfect for all the family.

We listened to local people as we shaped ReimagiNation, on everything from authors to include to opinions on the future of Glenrothes, resulting in a festival full of activities, free drop-in events and even a pop-up Waterstones bookshop. Whether you're an avid reader or simply passionate about your area, we think you'll find something to love at ReimagiNation.

Tell your tale in your town, make your voice heard, and listen to some of the best writers around.

Tickets

All events take place in or depart from the Rothesh Halls. Tickets cost £5 or £3 concessions unless otherwise stated.

25% discount on group bookings of 4 tickets or more.

Children's events: 1 adult goes free per child ticket. Speak to Box Office when booking to arrange additional adults.

To Book:

Online: booked.edbookfest.co.uk and onfife.com

Phone: 01592 611101

Visit: Rothesh Halls
(Mon – Sat, 9am – 5.15pm)

Tickets can also be bought from any On Fife Box Office.

Please note, there is a £1 booking fee per ticket when purchasing online.

Many events and activities are free. Some require that a free ticket be booked. See p14-15.

See p16 for visiting and access info.

Concessions:

Under 16s, students, Young Scot Card holders, pensioners, registered disabled and jobseekers. Carers go free with a valid C+ pass.

Children under 2 years require a free baby ticket for events not specifically for that age group.

Tickets can be exchanged for another performance with a £1 per ticket fee applied. There are no refunds unless an event is cancelled or substantially changed.

Most events include an audience Q&A, followed by a book signing.

Thu 17 May

The Time Travelling Book Club

11am – 12.30pm

£5/£3 | Includes refreshments

Journey back to the birth of Glenrothes as this special book club meeting dives into the most popular publications from 1948 to celebrate the town's 70th anniversary. You'll receive a loaned copy of a specially selected book in advance before meeting other readers at the event to share your thoughts, vote for your favourite and find out how the tastes of readers then compare to those now. Expect everything from the likes of Agatha Christie to Truman Capote and plenty in between. Remember to leave a phone number or email address when booking so book collection from a local library can be arranged. Open to all.

A Story at Lunch

1pm – 1.45pm

Free, ticket required | Light lunch provided

Take a seat, get comfy and tuck in! A deliciously talented line-up of authors entertain you with short readings from their work while you eat. Will it be crime, poetry, sci-fi or beautifully written prose to whisk you away somewhere new? Come along and see for yourself. Good food, good company and a novel way to spend your lunch hour will leave you feeling brighter and refreshed for the rest of the day. Check booked.edbookfest.co.uk for details of the line-up.

James Crawford: Scotland from the Sky

2.30pm – 3.30pm

£5/£3

Join writer and TV presenter James Crawford as he unveils his new, lavishly illustrated book Scotland from the Sky, published to accompany his landmark three-part BBC Scotland documentary series airing in March. James shares interesting insights from his research, answers your questions and shares clips from the show. The view from above offers us a unique window into the past, present and future of the nation, telling a story of war, innovation, adventure, cities, landscapes and people — the full and fascinating story of Scotland.

James is Publisher at Historic Environment Scotland and the Saltire Award-nominated author of Fallen Glory: The Lives and Deaths of the World's Greatest Lost Buildings.

Tales of Your Town

4.30pm – 6.30pm

Free, ticket required | Afternoon tea provided

Join us to celebrate the conclusion of a wonderful three-month project which has challenged local people — including pupils at Auchmuty High School, members of WalkON and a local Breathe Easy group — to rethink Glenrothes and find new ways to tell their tales of their town. Hosted by people's historian Daniel Gray, who has worked closely with all the participants since February, this free, informal event is the perfect chance to see and hear how others in the community feel about the New Town. You can share your own views too! Follow the project on: booked.edbookfest.co.uk
Supported by the Wellcome Trust.

Judy Murray: Holding Court

7pm – 8pm

£5/£3

A tennis star in her own right before her Grand Slam winning sons took British Tennis to new heights, Judy Murray played a vital but often unsung role in revolutionising the sport in this country, and continues to innovate today. A champion of women's rights, an activist for youngsters in the sport and a role model to anyone with a passion to reach the top of their own game, Judy reveals her story, from the soggy community courts of Dunblane to the white heat of Centre Court at Wimbledon, detailed in Knowing the Score, an extraordinary memoir now in paperback. Charting the challenges she has faced, from desperate finances and growing pains to hostile press conferences and entrenched sexism, Judy has served up an ace with this book. Today, hear her inspiring story and have a chance to ask your own questions.

Fri 18 May

A Turn About the New Town: Walking Tour

11am – 12.30pm

Meet at 10.45am in the Rothes Halls

£5/£3

Reimagine Glenrothes with this specially designed walking tour led by historian Diane Watters. Whether you've lived in the town for all of its 70 years or you're just visiting for the day, Diane's interactive tour takes you to various locations to learn more of the story of Fife's New Town. Taking in St Columba's and St Paul's and St Mary's Churches as well as modernist housing and more, Diane challenges negative views of the town, explaining how this urban centre emerged from rural land, how Scotland's New Towns have developed across 7 decades, and what the future might hold for them. Suitable for all ages — please dress for the weather!

Diane is an architectural historian at Historic Environment Scotland and teaches at the University of Edinburgh. Raised in Cumbernauld — another New Town — Diane led 2 sold-out tours there during ReimagiNation: Cumbernauld in May 2017. Read her accompanying article online: bit.ly/DWatters

The Great Tapestry of Scotland: Fife Panels

12pm – 1pm

£5/£3

One of the biggest community art projects ever undertaken in Scotland produced perhaps the most incredible historical record of the nation: The Great Tapestry of Scotland. Panels detailing centuries of Scottish history were stitched by over 1000 volunteers from all corners of the country, taking more than 50,000 hours to complete. Today, two of the project's pioneers come together to display and discuss the panels about, or stitched in, Fife: lead artist Andrew Crummy and stitch coordinator Dorie Wilkie. Find out more about this fascinating fabric and see where your community fits in the history of the nation.

A Story at Lunch

1pm – 1.45pm

Free, ticket required | Light lunch provided

See p2 for full event information and check booked.edbookfest.co.uk for details of the line-up.

James Aldred: Attenborough's Man Behind the Camera

3pm – 4.30pm
£5/£3

James Aldred is the real deal. You may not know the name, but you've seen his work. As an Emmy Award-winning wildlife cameraman and adventurer, he travels the world filming for landmark BBC programmes such as Planet Earth and Human Planet, working with David Attenborough and a host of other nature presenters including Chris Packham, Helen Macdonald, Steve Backshall and Kate Humble. James's job, and passion, is scaling the world's most amazing trees to capture remarkable footage of the wildlife there. He describes it all vividly in his new book The Man Who Climbs Trees, a love letter to the natural world which blends beautiful photography and incredible stories. From facing king cobras to contending with a mischievous orangutan trying to undo his climbing knots, James has done it all in pursuit of those unbelievable shots we see on TV. In this event he shares some more wonders from the world.

...incredible adventures and a dramatic new perspective.

” ”

Chris Packham, host of BBC's Springwatch

Christopher Brookmyre & Mark Billingham: Kings of Crime

5pm – 6pm
£5/£3

Two of the best crime writers in the business come together to introduce their most daring works to date. Mark Billingham's terrifying new DI Tom Thorne thriller, Love Like Blood, features a stunning twist, while Christopher Brookmyre's Places in the Darkness goes further than his fiction has ever gone before — into the unforgiving emptiness of space. Two good friends who've won multiple awards and topped the bestsellers list share the stage in an unmissable event full of laughs for fans of crime and science fiction alike.

Find recordings of previous events with the pair on our website: bit.ly/Billingham16 & bit.ly/Brookmyre16

Fri 18 May

An Evening of Whisky, Words and Music

7pm – 9pm

£7/£4.50 | Taster whisky included

Pull up a pew with a dram, or two, and settle in for a mouth-watering evening savouring what Scotland's best at: whisky and writing, music and mischief. Nikki Welch and Blair Bowman, authors of the bestselling The Pocket Guide to Whisky present a tasting session specially selected for the night. It is a taste tour fit for novices and experts alike — exploring old favourites and new contenders, and revealing insider expertise on getting the best value for money, finding the right whisky for every occasion, and how to savour our national drink.

Once you've found your favourite tippie (or a soft drink!), we have the perfect accompaniment — a heady evening of sublime storytelling and music. Luca Veste reads from his new thriller and first stand-alone novel The Bone Keeper which will have you gripping onto your glass. Multi-award winning Irish crime writer Stuart Neville, whose novels explore the gritty troubled streets of Belfast and the slick open highways of America when writing as Haylen Beck, also appears. We cap the evening with Glenrothes' own Andrew Ferguson with a Tribute to Venus Carmichael, the near-mythical 70s singer-songwriter from Arbroath who hit headlines in Las Vegas. Stories and song capture her life, loves, and criminal downfall.

Sat 19 May

A Turn About the New Town: Walking Tour

11am – 12.30pm

Meet at 10.45am in the Rothes Halls

£5/£3

Reimagine Glenrothes with this specially designed walking tour led by historian Diane Watters. Whether you've lived in the town for all of its 70 years or you're just visiting for the day, Diane's interactive tour takes you to various locations to learn more of the story of Fife's New Town. Taking in St Columba's and St Paul's and St Mary's Churches as well as modernist housing and more, Diane challenges negative views of the town, explaining how this urban centre emerged from rural land, how Scotland's New Towns have developed across 7 decades, and what the future might hold for them. Suitable for all ages — please dress for the weather!

Diane is an architectural historian at Historic Environment Scotland and teaches at the University of Edinburgh. Raised in Cumbernauld — another New Town — Diane led 2 sold-out tours there during ReimagiNation: Cumbernauld in May 2017. Read her accompanying article online: bit.ly/DWatters

Sally Magnusson: Gifted Storytelling

12pm – 1pm

£5/£3 | Cakes provided by BB's Bakers & Baristas

Half Icelandic, half Scottish, the broadcaster, journalist and bestselling writer Sally Magnusson has inherited a rich storytelling tradition. Her new novel, The Sealwoman's Gift, brilliantly reimagines the true events of a pirate raid on one of Iceland's Westman Islands in 1627, when a pastor, his wife and children — and half their island — were abducted into slavery. What happened next? Ásta, the remarkable heroine, has just one thing from home to help her live: stories. Join Sally as she talks about her book, the power of storytelling and giving voice to a woman at a time when women everywhere were largely silent. Bring your own questions for Sally for the Q&A session at the end.

It leaps from the page...
A remarkable feat of imagination.

■ ■ ■

Sarah Perry, author of The Essex Serpent

Event for People with Profound and Multiple Learning Disabilities

Fri 18 May

The Teeger that Cam for his Tea

2.30pm – 3.15pm

£3 | Suitable for all ages

Performer Hazel Darwin-Clements brings to life a new Scots version of Judith Kerr's beloved children's book The Tiger Who Came to Tea in a gentle, interactive storytelling session specially created for people with profound and multiple learning disabilities, and their carers. There will be songs, fun games and sensory play. A fitting celebration of a cherished picture book — with a wee Scots twist! Created with the help of PAMIS: promoting a more inclusive society.

Children's Events

£3 ticket admits 1 child and 1 adult

Sat 19 May

21 Years of Harry Potter Magic

11.30am – 12.30pm

£3 | Ages 6+ | Fancy dress encouraged!

Come and celebrate 21 years of the magical world of Harry Potter. As you explore the four houses of Hogwarts with Fleurble Laffalot, discover fun facts about the Harry Potter books and take part in some of the key elements of life at the famous School of Witchcraft and Wizardry — including the sorting ceremony, Quidditch, potions class and much more. With lots of audience interaction, this is the perfect event for any Harry Potter fan.

The Teeger that Cam for his Tea

11.30am – 12.15pm & 2.30pm – 3.15pm
£3 | Ages 3-6

Roar like a 'muckle, strippit teegeer' and grab a 'hail plate o pieces' as writer and performer Hazel Darwin-Clements brings to life a new Scots version of Judith Kerr's beloved children's book The Tiger Who Came to Tea in an exciting, lively interactive storytelling session for children. Get involved with lots of fun activities and games, explore the story and learn some new Scots words along the way. An energetic celebration of a cherished picture book — with a wee Scots twist!

Plan: Build a New Town

1pm – 2.30pm
£3 | Ages 9+ | Fun for adults too!

If you could build your own town from scratch, what would you put in it — a cinema, a park or a hospital? In theatre maker Ishbel McFarlane's Plan, you get the chance to make the big decisions — but will it be so easy? Offering a thought-provoking spin on how Glenrothes's New Town came to be, Plan is a hands-on, interactive show that feels like a game. It gets you thinking about communities, people and what's important to you. Entertaining and educational — can you plan the perfect town?

Create Comic Characters with Tanya Roberts

3.30pm – 5pm
£3 | Ages 10+ | Materials provided

Don't tell our novelist friends, but we think comics are possibly the most exciting way to tell stories, especially for children. Filled with incredible worlds and colourful characters, they offer limitless opportunities for creative minds, let friends collaborate to write and draw together and even allow tales told on the big and small screen to continue too. Tanya Roberts is an expert at this, having made a bold start in the world of comic books as an artist on Star Wars: The Clone Wars before working on Boom!'s Toy Story comic and Titan Comics' How to Train Your Dragon, as well as her own series Plagued: The Miranda Chronicles from BHP Comics. Join Tanya for a fun workshop which gets you thinking about how to tell your stories in pictures, develops your drawing skills, and leaves with your very own comic character creation.

See p14–15 for extra free activities

Sat 19 May

Archie Macpherson: A Pundit and a Pie

12.30pm – 1.30pm

£5/£3 | Meat or veggie pie provided

Across almost three decades Archie Macpherson was the voice of a nation's hopes, commentating on every one of Scotland's World Cup matches from 1974 to our most recent tournament appearance, 20 years ago, in 1998. Those days are gone now, but Archie's new book Adventures in the Golden Age brings the on and off-field dramas he witnessed vividly to life, from back-room bungs to wonder goals. A bestselling writer, BAFTA-winning broadcaster and brilliantly entertaining speaker with an unrivalled knowledge of the sport and Scotland's biggest names, Archie answers your questions and relives a footballing golden era the likes of which we will, hopefully, see again.

Everything You Wanted to Know About Poetry...

1pm – 2pm

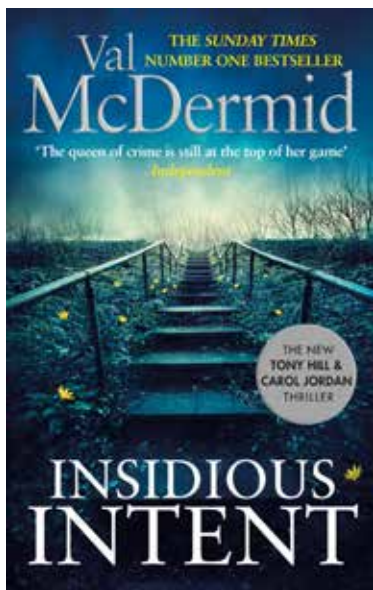

£5/£3

... but were afraid to ask. Liliias Fraser, Projects Manager at the Scottish Poetry Library, has made it her mission to smash the barriers preventing people reading poems. Sometimes daunting, often difficult, and definitely vast, the world of poetry is unknown even for many hardened readers. In this workshop you'll have an expert helping hand to guide you through the rhymes and reasons which make reading poetry a thrilling, thought-provoking, even heartbreaking hobby. No knowledge is necessary as Liliias introduces you to classics and new works, stoking your reading confidence and uncovering some new favourites to cherish.

Photo: News Licensing

Val McDermid: Fife's Finest

BSL 2.15pm – 3.15pm
£5/£3

Fans of Fife crime-writing legend Val McDermid's Wire in the Blood thrillers, rejoice: two of her most famous characters are back. DCI Carol Jordan and psychological profiler Tony Hill return in Insidious Intent, setting pulses racing once more as they delve into a dark and disturbing string of tragedies, exposing a tangled web of fear and revenge that will challenge your very notion of justice. Join the multi-million selling queen of crime as she reveals the inspiration behind some of her most iconic characters, and the secrets to skilful suspense-building and elegant plotting. And don't forget to come prepared with interrogatory questions of your own...
In association with The Open University in Scotland.

Val appeared at the 2015 Edinburgh International Book Festival. Watch her event, chaired by First Minister Nicola Sturgeon, online: bit.ly/ValMcD15

Sat 19 May

Debate: Glenrothes — A New Day?

BSL 4pm – 5.30pm
Free, ticket required

Glenrothes has always been ‘unusual’, has always had to strive for identity. Alone among Scotland’s New Towns, it was not designed as an overspill site for Glasgow but as a development to house workers at a nearby colliery. As the coal industry declined, the town became instead a focal point of ‘Silicon Glen’, the heart of Scotland’s burgeoning technology sector. A place where the industrial past and technological future collide; an urban centre built on agricultural land; a winner of Carbuncle as well as Beauty Scotland awards; a New Town in the heart of ancient Fife. Now 70 years old, can Glenrothes continue to survive these contradictions? What can its past tell us about its future, and has the New Town ‘experiment’ worked?

Chaired by writer and broadcaster Richard Holloway, this is the fourth ReimagiNation debate on the successes, failures and opportunities of Scotland’s New Towns, following on from passionate discussions in Cumbernauld, East Kilbride and Irvine. The panel is composed of historian Diane Watters; community artist and founder of Recoat Design Amy Whiten; and Glenrothes MSP Jenny Gilruth.

Read what local residents have had to say about Glenrothes: bit.ly/YourGlenrothes

Glenrothes is an archetypal 20th century New Town that is struggling in the 21st century. It should either be designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, or completely destroyed.

|| ||
ReimagiNation survey respondent

Doug Johnstone: Faultless New Fiction

6pm – 7pm
£5/£3

Be among the first to fall for a fresh thriller as bestselling Scottish crime writer Doug Johnstone launches his outstanding new novel Fault Lines in Glenrothes. Join the award-winning author, journalist, musician and Doctor in Nuclear Physics to hear about his latest psychological page-turner, set in a reimagined modern Edinburgh where the Firth of Forth sits on an active volcanic fault line. On the discovery of her boss — and lover's — lifeless body on a volcanic island, volcanologist Surtsey decides to keep her affair, and the corpse, a secret. But little does she know, the nightmare's just begun... Celebrate the publication of a new hit in Scottish crime fiction with the author.

Fun Lovin' Crime Writers

7.30pm – 9.30pm
£7/£4.50

It's murder on the dancefloor! The Fun Lovin' Crime Writers make a devilishly fun appearance, rocking the stage at the Rothies Halls with a riotous selection of inspired cover tunes. Fun-loving but seriously talented, this high-calibre band is formed of top crime-writing-turned-music stars Mark Billingham (guitar, vocals), Doug Johnstone (drums, guitar, vocals), Stuart Neville (guitar, harmonica), Val McDermid (vocals), Chris Brookmyre (guitar, vocals) and Luca Veste (bass). Between them they've sold books by the millions and now they show you what else they can do. Their first live gig went down a storm in the Spiegeltent at the Edinburgh International Book Festival last summer, and they've got shows lined up across Britain in 2018. It would be criminal to miss it.

Free Events and Activities

Talking New Towns with the National Library of Scotland

Thu – Sat, 11am – 4pm

Free, drop-in | All ages

The National Library of Scotland helps mark 70 years of Scotland's New Towns with a fascinating exhibition and family-friendly activity programme at ReimagiNation: Glenrothes. See original New Towns promotional films and town plans, hear recorded stories from original residents, and get your creative juices flowing as you leave your own memories for future citizens and draw your own 21st century New Town. A fantastic opportunity for young and old to dig into the history of Glenrothes and ponder what the future might be like.

Paint the Town Red with Recoat

Thu – Sat, 11am – 4pm

Free, drop-in | All ages

From enormous public murals to intimate community projects, Amy Whiten and Alistair Wyllie of Glasgow-based Recoat Design work to place art at the very heart of the community. Drop in to this hands-on workshop and be guided by these wonderful artists to create and contribute to new pieces of work inspired by Glenrothes's eye-catching collection of public art, showing how art can reshape the familiar world around you. No experience necessary, all materials provided. For more on Recoat, visit recoatdesign.com

Tall Tales About the Town

Sat, 11am – 4pm

Performances around Kingdom

Shopping Centre | Ages 6+ |

Fun for adults too!

See Glenrothes in a weird and wonderful new light. Hilarious storytelling duo Macastory tour the famous public art sprinkled around the Kingdom Shopping Centre in a series of interactive routines, with songs, raps and stories unravelling the hidden histories of the town. Meet intriguing characters, discover fascinating facts and prepare to laugh your socks off in these fun-filled pop-up performances in a place you thought you knew. Perfect for all the family!

More for families

On top of all that, there's even more for kids and families to do at ReimagiNation. Get your face painted as your favourite book hero or villain, meet beloved book characters in real life as they parade around the Shopping Centre, or grab one of our specially commissioned activity booklets made by illustration students at the Edinburgh College of Art, with the help of St Paul's RC Primary School, and explore Glenrothes's public art in fun new ways!

ON at Fife Libraries will have pop-up information stands as well as interactive exhibits and more so adults and families can get information about their community too. To find out more visit booked.edbookfest.co.uk or simply visit the Festival and see what's going on.

Free events for which a ticket should be booked — see pages for details

Thu 17 May

A Story at Lunch

1pm – 1.45pm — p2

Tales of Your Town

4.30pm – 6.30pm — p3

Fri 18 May

A Story at Lunch

1pm – 1.45pm — p4

Sat 19 May

Debate: Glenrothes — A New Day?

4.00pm – 5.30pm — p12

Access

Events take place in or depart from the Rothes Halls, at the west end of the Kingdom Shopping Centre in Glenrothes.

The Rothes Halls are fully accessible:

- Accessible entrances and automatic doors.
- Induction loop in main auditoriums.
- Changing Places toilet facilities on ground floor.
- Adapted toilet facilities on first floor.
- All floors of the venue accessible via lift.
- Disabled parking spaces available in adjacent car parks.
- Guide dogs welcome.
- Changing facilities available.
- Breastfeeding supported.
- High chairs available in the café.
- Wheelchair spaces available in the main auditorium — book in advance.
- A 3D map of the venue is available at onfife.com
- Venue staff have undergone dementia awareness training.

BSL

Val McDermid (p11) and our Glenrothes Debate (p12) will both have BSL Interpretation.

The Teeger that Cam for his Tea (p8) is specially created for people of any age with profound and multiple learning disabilities.

If you have any special requirements, please call 01592 611101, email boxoffice.rothesalls@onfife.com, or visit the Rothes Halls (Mon – Sat, 9am – 5.15pm).

Directions

By car:

Glenrothes is on the A92. Once in central Glenrothes, Rothes Halls is well signposted. There are several car parks adjacent to the venue. For full parking details, visit onfife.com.

By bus:

Glenrothes Bus Station is east of the Kingdom Shopping Centre, a five-minute walk from Rothes Halls.

By train:

Markinch Station is 2.6 miles from Glenrothes, around six minutes drive time.
Thornton Station is 4 miles from Glenrothes, around ten minutes drive time.

Full access information is available online: booked.edbookfest.co.uk

Eating and Drinking:

The Rothes Halls Café is open daily from 8.30am – 5pm during ReimagiNation. Note, hot meals won't be served after 2.30pm. The bar will be open throughout the day until the final event begins. Show a valid ticket for that day and receive 10% off your food bill. Other food outlets are available in and around the Kingdom Shopping Centre.

Events for Children
Free Events

Date	Event	Start Time	End Time	Page
Thu 17 May	The Time Travelling Book Club	11am	12.30pm	2
	Talking New Towns with the National Library of Scotland	11am	4pm	14
	Paint the Town Red with Recoat	11am	4pm	14
	A Story at Lunch	1pm	1.45pm	2
	James Crawford: Scotland from the Sky	2.30pm	3.30pm	2
	Tales of Your Town	4.30pm	6.30pm	3
	Judy Murray: Holding Court	7pm	8pm	3
Fri 18 May	A Turn About the New Town: Walking Tour	11am	12.30pm	4
	Talking New Towns with the National Library of Scotland	11am	4pm	14
	Paint the Town Red with Recoat	11am	4pm	14
	The Great Tapestry of Scotland: Fife Panels	12pm	1pm	4
	A Story at Lunch	1pm	1.45pm	4
	The Teeger that Cam for his Tea	2.30pm	3.15pm	8
	James Aldred: Attenborough's Man Behind the Camera	3pm	4.30pm	5
	Christopher Brookmyre & Mark Billingham: Kings of Crime	5pm	6pm	5
	An Evening of Whisky, Words and Music	7pm	9pm	6
Sat 19 May	A Turn About the New Town: Walking Tour	11am	12.30pm	7
	Talking New Towns with the National Library of Scotland	11am	4pm	14
	Paint the Town Red with Recoat	11am	4pm	14
	Tall Tales About the Town	11am	4pm	15
	The Teeger that Cam for his Tea	11.30am	12.15pm	9
	21 Years of Harry Potter Magic	11.30am	12.30pm	8
	Sally Magnusson: Gifted Storytelling	12pm	1pm	7
	Archie MacPherson: A Pundit and a Pie	12.30pm	1.30pm	10
	Everything You Wanted to Know About Poetry	1pm	2pm	10
	Plan: Build a New Town	1pm	2.30pm	9
BSL	Val McDermid: Fife's Finest	2.15pm	3.15pm	11
	The Teeger that Cam for his Tea	2.30pm	3.15pm	8
	Create Comic Characters with Tanya Roberts	3.30pm	5pm	9
BSL	Debate: Glenrothes — A New Day?	4pm	5.30pm	12
	Doug Johnstone: Faultless Fiction	6pm	7pm	13
	Fun Lovin' Crime Writers	7.30pm	9.30pm	13

Waterstones

Visit our pop-up
Waterstones shop
in Glenrothes
at ReimagiNation

Waterstones.com